Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1, 7, and 14 the phrase "the component causing..." or "the insert causing..." is vague, indefinite, functional, and it is not clear what structural limitations applicant intends to encompass with such language. There is insufficient structure for the recited functions.

In the claims alternative phrases such as "one or more...", "or the ...entire outsole body", etc. are confusing, vague, and indefinite and appear to provide no additional limitations to the claim and therefore render these phrases and claims vague and indefinite as to what structural limitations applicant is intending to encompass by the use/presence of this language. Claims such as claim 3 do not provide any additional limitations, everything inherently is made of one or more types of materials.

In claim 13 the phrase "within the outsole body" is confusing, contradictory, and indefinite because claim 7 claims that the component is located in the midsole.

In claim 21 the phrase "the insert" lacks antecedent basis rendering the claim vague and indefinite.

The above noted defects are merely representative and are in no way to be construed to be a complete listing thereof.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mayer (5720118).

Mayer shows a shoe with a component located as an insert/midsole/outsole inasmuch as the claims are understood and the limitations positively recited.
